THOUGHT THE KAISER STUPID.

A Coachman Told Him He Would Never Set a River Afire.

An amusing little story about the present emperor of Germany, William II, and a Vienna coachman was narrated at a banquet lately given at Vienna by some diplomats, the narrator being himself a well known and prominent member of the corps diplomatic.

In the year 1887 the present Emperor William II of Germany, then Prince William of Prussia, came to Vienna, visiting his particular friend and chum, the late Crown Prince Rudolf of Austria. Joined by the Prince of Wales, who was at that time also a frequent visitor to the Vienna court, the three princes took a fancy to mingle with the commons of the Vienna population.

Dressed in ordinary clothes, they visited places which are not in the least regarded as suitable for princely guests.

One day they entered a hotel, but instead of going into the dining room they walked into the "Schweinerei," a place which answers in some degree to the kitchen of an American hotel; in this room coachmen and the servants of the hotel guests take their meals.

The three princes took seats at an empty table, and listened, highly amused, to a fierce debate about politics between several stout members of that class of fashionable Vienna coachmen who are known all over Europe as "fische Wiener flaker." The distinction of these characters is a kind of good natured boldness and droll familiarity toward their customers as well as to perfect strangers.

At first listening Prince William put in a word, and soon was drawn into the excited discussion. Suddenly a stout, red faced coachman walked up to the table where the three princes were seated, and, tapping Prince William gently on the shoulder, said, "Now, if you should ever have anything to say in politics, you wouldn't set a river on fire, I'm sure!"

IN PLAGUE TIMES.

New London Handled the All Devouring Plague in the Seventeenth Century.

During the plague of 1603 Francis Haring, "Doctor in Physic and Fellow of the College of Physicians in London," published certain Rules and Directions for the prevention of the spreading of that contagious and all devouring sickness.

These he printed, "nevertheless interpreted," in the next place season of 1633, "to the view and use, and I hope good of my Citizens and Countrymen." Among his rules are:

"Caution of people to Stage plays, wakers of fairs and May pole dances are to be prohibited by public Authority, whereby, as God is dishonored, the bodies of men and women—by surfeiting, debaucheries and other vices and excesses—disposed to infection, and the contagion dangerously scattered both in City and Country."

"Let not the carcasses of horses, dogs, cats, etc., lie rotting and poisoning the air (as they have done) in Moors and Pasture fields, and elsewhere round about the City."

"The burying of infected bodies in churches, churchyards and manors, in Pauls Churchyard, where the most Magnificents of the City and many other Citizens meet weekly to hear Sermons, must needs be not only inconvenient, but very dangerous for spreading the contagion, and poisoning the whole City."

"Some folk ate breakfast then, others did not: "For breakfast you may use a good draught of wormwood beere or ale, and a few morsels of bread and butter, with the leaves of sage, or else a taste with sweet salinde oyle, two or three drops of rose vinegar and a little sugar. They that have cold stomackes may drinke a draught of wormwood wine or malmsie, instead of ale or beere. But take heed (as you love your life) of extreme hot waters, as aqua vite, Rosa solis or other compound waters of like nature, which Empiricks prepare and set out with wine and banking words."

"If they were * * * devised a kill, not cure men."—Notes and Queries.

A Woman's Will.
Talk about a woman's will! Why, up in Lausling resides a lady who has enjoyed good health and yet has not been outside the doorway for 14 years. On one occasion when she returned home too late to get supper for her husband he grumbled and said that he hoped the next time she went out she would break her leg. This led the woman to declare she would never again go outside the yard. Later when the husband died, of remorse probably, she followed the custom to the gate and refused to go farther and from that time has never left the premises.—Kalamazoo Gazette.WEAK MEN

INDORSED BY THE MINERS' UNION.

The Miners' Union of Virginia City is composed of men who earn their bread by hard labor deep in the bowels of mother earth. Those men are producers and since the organization of the union have added at least $450,000,000 to the gold and silver product of the country. Mining is their occupation and therefore they take more than a passing interest in the success of the noble band of patriots in Washington who, unawed by the fulminations of the Administration and uninfluenced by the gold of London and Wall street, are battling to restore silver, the money of the masses, to the place assigned it by the founders of the Government. These hardy sons of toil at a recent meeting adopted the resolutions printed elsewhere in this paper commending the speech of Senator Tillman of South Carolina and approving the course of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

This action on the part of the Miners' Union is timely as it will necessarily have an effect on others who have to work for a livelihood. Our gold friends tell us the financial question is not a political issue and the course of their representatives in Congress, who combine, regardless of party, to prevent the restoration of silver, would indicate that they do not desire to make it a party question. The organization of the National Silver party makes it a political issue, however, and shows that the friends of silver have come to the conclusion that they have been bamboozled long enough by the tricksters of the old parties and will now present the question fairly to the people. That the Miners' Union approves of this action and will advise other labor organizations to endorse it, their resolutions have no room for doubt. They are for the remonetization of silver and the interests of the workingmen of the State and Nation.

MILITARY MEN FOR STAFF POSITIONS.

The Chairman of the House Committee on Military Affairs makes a recommendation that the law be changed so that appointments to the pay department of the army shall be made from the line of the army. The staff appointments are the most desirable positions and these are almost invariably given to civilians.

As we understand it a paymaster in the army ranks as Major. His duties are to pay the troops in the military department to which he is assigned once in one or two months. He has a clerk paid by the Government who attends to the details of the business. Though a civilian, he ranks higher than Captains and Lieutenants who have been in the service for years and as he secures his appointment through political influence it is discouraging to the line officer who has no "pull" at the National Capital.

There are to-day in the United States Army many officers who distinguished themselves in the war of the rebellion and since that time on the frontier who are wearing the epaulets of Captains or Lieutenants. Though they have become gray in the service of the country young civilians who never smell powder are appointed over their heads to staff positions with the rank and pay of Majors, because their friends are adherents of the party that happens to be in power at Washington. This must necessarily have a bad effect on military men who feel that promotions do not follow faithful service, but depends entirely upon political considerations. In justice to deserving soldiers the recommendations of the Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs should be adopted and an act passed prohibiting the appointment of civilians to staff positions in the army.

AN EXAMPLE TO POPULISTS.

Hon. Marion Butler, United States Senator from North Carolina, is one of the leading Populists of the country. He led the party to victory in his State and was elected to the United States Senate for six years by the party. He is now one of the most active advocates of free coinage in the United States Senate and is a thorn, and an irritating one too, in the side of the gold men. Senator Butler is Chairman of the Populist State Central Committee of North Carolina, and has issued an address to the party and all others in the State who are opposed to the single gold standard to unite and vote together so that the eleven electoral votes of North Carolina in the ensuing Presidential election shall be given to the candidates favoring the free coinage of silver.

That is the true business. There is no reason why the silver men of all parties should not unite and present an unbroken front to the gold men. Of course the leaders of the old parties will do all in their power to create dissensions among those who are opposed to the gold combination. Money and misrepresentation, their most effective weapons, will be used without stint. The leaders are expected to supply the misrepresentation and the gold trust will furnish the money. With the silver men united the gold men in Nevada could not elect a constable, but with a division in their ranks the Wall street gang might in some instances succeed. Populists and silver men, no matter with what party they have heretofore affiliated, should now unite as suggested by Senator Butler, make cause against the gold ring and redeem the country from its paralyzing grasp.

The Financial Question Tabooed.
PORTLAND, February 5.—The Young Men's State Republic Club met here to-day, about 1,000 delegates being present. An attempt was made to bring up the financial question, but the Committee on Order of Business effectively blocked all attempts by reporting the following resolution:
"Resolved, That no resolution or motion defining or attempting to define the position of the party on any public question or endorsing the views of any member of the party shall be received or considered."

The resolution was adopted by a large majority.
Judge C. H. Carey of Portland was chosen President for the ensuing year. The A. P. A. candidate for Vice-President was defeated by a vote of 625 to 387.

A Ship Ashore.
PORT TOWNSEND, Wn., February 5.—The British ship Kilbannon, from Callao, went ashore on Point Wilson, near Port Townsend, at 3 o'clock this morning, and will be probably a total loss. She came up the straits before a strong northwest wind and struck near the lighthouse, all the sails going by the board. The ship went over on her starboard beam, the seas breaking clear over her. An attempt was made to launch two boats but they were carried away. Tugs were sent out, but could render no assistance.

The British steamer Argenterod, from Japan, arrived this morning. She was long overdue and great fears were expressed for her safety.

Congressional Proceedings.
WASHINGTON, February 5.—In the House to-day Delegate Catron of New Mexico introduced a bill to prevent the pugilistic festival from taking place near El Paso. The bill makes fighting a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for not less than five years. Catron asked for unanimous consent for its consideration. Knox objected and the bill was referred. Later the House passed the anti-prize-fighting bill without division.

In the Senate no action was taken on Quay's motion to refer the tariff bill and amendment to the Finance Committee with instructions.

An Old Indian Dead.

RUTLAND, Vt., February 5.—News has been received here of the death of Macomber, a leading Indian of the Coughawaug reservation, near Saranac Lake. He was 103 years old, and left considerable wealth. The old man had been married three times. His first wife bore him six children, by the second he had fifteen and by the third the same number. He had over 1,000 grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

The Sheriff declares he cannot get meals for the prisoners at the price fixed by the Supervisors.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

INDURED BY THE MINERS.

The Virginia City Union Commends the Sentiments of Senator Tillman, and Approves the Conduct of Senators and Representatives.

At a regular meeting of the Virginia City Miners' Union, held on the evening of January 31, 1896, the following preamble and resolutions were read, and on motion were unanimously adopted by the Union:

WHEREAS, The junior Senator from South Carolina, Hon. B. R. Tillman, having had the manhood and courage to stand up in his place in the Senate of the United States in behalf of the citizens of this great republic and denounce the administration of Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, and his Secretary, Carlisle, of the Treasury, for the unwarrantable part those public servants have played in betraying the trust reposed in them by the people in turning the finances of the nation over to the mercenary shysters of London, giving to this soulless renegade plutocracy the entire control of the monetary resources of the country, depleting the national treasury through the instrumentality of the goddess goldbug ring. By this means silver is kept demonetized, the commerce of the nation lies prostrate and paralyzed and the toiling millions of the land retrograded to a state of semi-slavery. Yet our nation is blessed with all the natural resources which the benign hand of Providence has bestowed upon any people to make them free, prosperous and happy had they been blessed by a wise and equitable Executive holding the prerogative power of Chief Magistrate.

Resolved, That the Virginia City Miners' Union extends to the citizen's man of South Carolina its heartfelt thanks and gratitude for those words of wisdom and truth so eloquently uttered in defense of national honor and rights in the Senate of the United States and re-echoed in the hearts of the toiling millions of this mighty nation.

Resolved, That the Virginia City Miners' Union extend to the citizens of South Carolina its hearty greetings and congratulations in sending such a noble and patriotic son as Senator Tillman to represent them in the Senate of the United States. Should all the States of the Union send such men as Tillman to the Senate, the goldbug plutocracy would soon be dethroned and an honest Government established in its stead.

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolutions be engrossed and that the Secretary be instructed to forward a copy to Senator Tillman of South Carolina and that a copy of the same be spread upon the minutes of this meeting.

In witness whereof we have hereunto placed our hands and caused the seal of the Virginia City Miners' Union to be attached this 31st day of January, 1896.

P. F. BRANNAN,

Vice President.

JOHN F. McDONELL, Secretary.

At the same meeting the following resolutions were also adopted:

WHEREAS, The Hon. John P. Jones and Hon. Wm. M. Stewart, representatives of Nevada in the Senate of the United States, and Hon. Francis G. Newlands, representing Nevada in the House of Representatives of the United States, having at all times in their respective official places faithfully stood by and fearlessly and eloquently advocated such measures as were calculated for the best interests of Nevada and the United States as a nation, the Virginia City Miners' Union, one of the leading labor organizations of Nevada, by this preamble and resolutions, do hereby indorse the action of Nevada's representatives in the National Congress.

Resolved, That the Virginia City Miners' Union, appreciating the eminent public service rendered to our national legislation by Hon. J. P. Jones, Hon. William M. Stewart and Hon. Francis G. Newlands in their untiring advocacy of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, by the enactment of such a law by Congress the silver miners of Nevada would be materially benefitted by obtaining a market for their home production, silver bullion; and the financial status of the nation placed upon a just and equitable basis, by which means the whole people of the United States could be made more prosperous and happy, takes this opportunity to offer to each representative of Nevada in our national Congress a vote of confidence and to extend to each one individually the sincere thanks of this Union.

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to send a copy of this preamble and resolutions to Hon. John P. Jones, Hon. William M. Stewart and Hon. Francis G. Newlands to their respective addresses in the city of Washington, D. C., and that a copy of the same be spread on the minutes of this meeting.

In witness whereof we have hereunto placed our hands and caused the seal of the Virginia City Miners' Union to be attached this 31st day of January, 1896.

P. F. BRANNAN,

Vice President.

JOHN F. McDONELL, Secretary.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Items of Interest From Here, There and Everywhere.

The Recille says the thermometer registered 12 degrees above zero Saturday morning, which is the coldest for the year at Austin.

Stockmen tell the Silver State that feed at the present time is plentiful and cattle are thriving.

The Courier says Belmont was visited by snow storms last week, and the cattle and sheep that are grazing in the valleys south of Belmont are faring better now.

The Recille reports the death of Mrs. John Dias, who was shot by her husband at the Vaughan ranch. The woman lived in great agony until relieved by death, and it was remarkable that she lived so long for the bullet had plowed through her body, making death certain. Mrs. Dias made a statement which is said to show that Dias deliberately shot her.

The Recille says there are about seventy-five persons at Kennedy and twelve men are working on the Irish mine for J. A. Blossom. The Sweitzer Company is still paying rent on the Kennedy mill and looking for a mine in the district on which to erect their electric plant for the reduction of ores. The company offered Mart Wiggan $5,000 for his mine, which offer he refused.

The Independent says J. M. Dorsey of the firm of Dorsey & Son returned from Omaha Saturday where he had been with a shipment of cattle. He took 230 head of white faces, durhams and other cattle and sold them at the following prices: The white faces, averaging 1,250 lbs., brought $1 10; the durhams, averaging 1,250 lbs., brought $3 80; the white face cows, averaging 1,050 lbs., brought $3 50, and the durham cows and other cattle, averaging 1,050 lbs., brought $3 10.

A MODEL LOVE LETTER.

How an Elko Youth Describes His Feelings.

The Independent publishes the following effusion from an Elko swain to the idol of his heart:

Dearest Sweetest:—My love for you is stronger than coffee or the kick of a cow. Sensations of exquisite joy go through me like cohorts of ants through an army cracker and caper over my heart like a young goat over a stable roof. I feel as if I could lift myself with my boot straps to the height of a church steeple. As a lean pup hankers after sweet milk so I hanker after your presence. And as a gosling swims in a mud puddle, so do I swim in a sea of delightfulness when you are near me. My heart oscillates like a sieve in a fanning mill and my eyes stand open like cellar doors in a country town; if my love is not reciprocated I will pine away and die like a poisoned bedbug and you can catch a cold over my grave.

THE GRACIE PLAISTED COMPANY.

Another Good Performance in Virginia City.

The Chronicle of last evening says the Gracie Plaisted Musical Comedy Company gave another fine performance at the Opera House last evening to a large house. This company is one of the few that can draw an audience more than one night. "Fanchon" is a popular play, and this talented company does it to the fullest justice. Miss Plaisted was more charming than ever last night, and her support was up to its usual high standard. The singing by the members of the company never fails to be first class, and that last night was most excellent. "The Gutta Serena Girl," which will be rendered this evening, is a most laughable comedy and one of the best in the repertoire of the company. There will no doubt be a large crowd present to-night to witness this charming production.

Southeastern Nevada

C. J. Boskowitz is around on his regular visit. He is just from Southeastern Nevada. He says that Louis Klein died at Pioche last Tuesday and his brother Jacob Klein of Carson is on the road to see him.

DeLamar keeps growing and now has a population of about 1,500. The owners of the April Fool mine are putting up a plant to reduce 150 tons a day and expect to have it running in April. New and rich strikes are reported at Spring Valley, near the Utah line. There is a quartzite lode which assays 900 ounces in silver per ton and upsets all the theories of the scientists. Lincoln county has the brightest prospects for years. They expect the Blake railroad from Goff's will be completed to Pioche this year. It is now in running order from Los Angeles to Goff's, a distance of over 70 miles.

Stock Shipments.

G. L. Pyle arrived on the N-C-O. last evening with fifteen cars of cattle for Silverberg, San Francisco. They will be reshipped to-day.

Griff Parry will ship three cars of cattle to J. G. James, San Francisco, to-day. Griff will accompany them.

D. C. Wheeler will ship three cars of motion sheep to California this morning.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

One of Eugene Field's Pranks.
When Eugene Field was city editor of the Kansas City Times, he found great amusement in annoying one of the characters employed on the paper. Ferguson was one of the "make ups" on the paper, and in Wyandotte, where he resided,
just over the line from Kansas City,
he was the leader of a local temperance society. For over a year Field, on consulting down to the paper to go to work, would write a personal concerning Ferguson. Generally it ran like this: "Mr.
John Ferguson, the well known 'make up' of the Times composing room, appeared for work yesterday evening in his usual beaming state of intoxication."
This outrageous bit Field would send down in a bundle of copy, and the other members of the composing room would set it up and say nothing.
But Ferguson knew that this awful personal was in their midst, and every night would go carefully over every galley for the purpose of locating and killing it. It gave him vast trouble. Every night then Field would not write his personal about Ferguson, and then the beaming Ferguson was worse off than ever. As long as he could not find it it might still be there. It almost drove the man out of the paper. Now and then it escaped his eagle eye and was printed. On such occasions Ferguson's burden was beyond the power of even a Christian spirit to bear.

Delay That Wasn't Dangerous.
Once in a while the dry pages of government reports are enlivened by details of sensational incidents. Witness the following from a report of John W.
Blanning, United States mine inspector for New Mexico: "I arrived at Cerillos
on the evening of the 26th of February, at 11 p. m. On the morning of the 27th
I went out to the White Ash Coal mine, about 2 1/2 miles from the town. When I arrived there, I asked the superintendent of the mine, James Duggan, about the condition of the mine, and he informed me that it was never better; that he had been in the mine every day for eight or ten days past, and had taken air measurements and found that the ventilation was better than ever before.
Upon my request that he proceed into the mine for its inspection, he asked that he was required to go to the coke ovens of the company at Valdo, about 2 1/2 miles distant, and would return by mountain, and we would go into the mine." At 11 a. m. an explosion of fire damp occurred in the mine which killed 21 men, and showed the inspector that, sometimes, delays are the reverse of dangerous.

A Good Mother's Ruse.
There is a mother on the north side
who has a family of small children.
One day she became very much interested in a book, and it seemed as if she could read it, but the children bothered her very much. Finally she thought of a scheme whereby she could get rid of the children, so she took a broom and painted red chalk on it and hung it in the window. She then told the children they must play she had the smallpox, and that they must not dare come near her, for they would catch it. They kept away beautifully all the afternoon, and she finished the book. Some of the neighbors also saw the red flag and asked the children what was the matter,
and they told smallpox, and the report was current on that side of town in a very short time. Not only the children, but the neighbors kept away until they knew of the scheme.—Indianapolis Journal.

Witches In Eggshells.
When Napoleon III was approaching sovereignty, he asked a judicious friend to observe him carefully for a week and to point out to him anything that he did which was not according to the severest code of the manner of a well bred man.
At the end of the week there was only one practice which his friend had not-ticed. The emperor, after eating a boiled egg, invariably thrust his spoon
through it.
Whenever this practice has arisen, at one time not uncommon, it is difficult to say. Some date it from a very early period and assume that it was done originally in order to prevent witches sailing in the eggshells.

Russian Distances.
One gets an idea of the magnificent distances of the czar's realm from learning that a Russian general who was in a hurry to get to St. Petersburg from Vladivostok found the time saving route
was to go to Yokohama by steamer, thence by another steamer across the Pacific to San Francisco, by rail to New York and by steamer to Europe. The gap between the finished sections of the Transiberian railroad is so many hundreds of miles in length that the general would have lost time in traversing the wilds of that vast country, where horses furnish all the transport.

Inconsistent.
"Why are you looking so serious, Bobby?" asked the fond father.
"Thinking about the preacher. He went and told us we should not covet other people's things and then tried to get all the pretties we had."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Oil and Water.
"I'm very unfortunate," said the young artist.
"You are deficient in one important quality," replied his candid friend.
"What is that?"
"Tact. When Mr. Green came to see you about a portrait, you never stopped to think that he made his fortune out of a lucky streak in horoscopes."
"Never."
"And you told him he ought to have his picture done in oil, and he didn't leave the order."
"That's so."
"And when Mr. Skimmer, who has prospered as a dairyman, called at your studio, you rushed from Soylia to Charydis and advised him to do done up in water colors. You're a good painter, my boy, but what you need is discretion."—Washington Star.

All of which will more fully appear from
